

AMUSEMENTS.

WALNUT STREET THEATRE.—London Assurance was given last night at this theatre, and before noticing the cast, we must say that it was put on the stage in most exquisite style.

Mrs. John Wood, dressed like an empress (we mean Katerine), looked to the greatest advantage, and being a beautiful woman, was, of course, most attractive.

"Sir Harcourt Courtesy" is a part of which Mr. Griffiths has not the least idea, "Sir Harcourt" is a high-bred gentleman, over bred, over refined, full of vanity, but never anything but a gentleman.

ARCH STREET THEATRE.—Fortunio and two farces are given here this evening. The London Athenaeum contains a letter from Watts Phillips, the author of Lot in London, in which he declares that the play was stolen from his desk, and that Mr. Wallack had no right to perform it.

NEW CHESTNUT STREET THEATRE.—The Red Rover and the Sleeping Beauty will be given this evening.

PERELLI'S OPERA SEASON.—Owing to the indisposition of one of the principal lady performers in Lucetta Borgia, Perelli's grand opera, Clorinda Harlowe, will be given the first night of the series.

A FINE CONCERT.—On Saturday night a very attractive musical entertainment will be given by Mr. I. L. Rice, a distinguished pianist of this city.

FOYER ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Mr. Jarvis' second matinee will take place on Friday. The programme will be most attractive.

Is the Cattle Plague Smallpox?

CURIOUS MEDICAL SPECULATIONS IN ENGLAND.

The London Lancet, the leading medical journal in England, contains the following:

"The report of Dr. Murchison's dissections of the diseased cattle, which appeared in the Lancet as long ago as August 26, showed clearly that the rinderpest was not the pathological equivalent of human typhoid fever, and we believe we are correct in stating that this opinion has been confirmed by every subsequent observer.

The adventururers are now on their way; but we have no doubt that the list of names in their hearts cannot be told. What awaits them after they shall have reached Seattle, will be developed only by Time, the Edipus that reads all riddles; but since they have departed, we can only wish them smooth seas, placid skies, and unobstructed success.—N. Y. Tribune.

LITERARY RELICS.—Brantz Mayer, Esq., of this city, has been engaged, at the instance of Governor Bradford, by Hon. W. L. W. Seabrook, Commissioner of the Land Office, to examine, classify, and arrange the various State papers of Maryland, as connected with the Proprietary, Royal, and Revolutionary periods of the country.

"It also appears that the physicians who so carefully described the symptoms of the disease, and who constantly alluded to the eruption, and compared it to that of smallpox. If the view now referred to be correct, it is impossible to overestimate its importance. A remedy is at once placed in our hands, and the means of preventing the spread of the plague, which has already come to be regarded as a great national calamity.

"No time ought to be lost in adopting Dr. Murchison's suggestion, to ascertain whether cattle, after such inoculations, be proof against the rinderpest. In the meantime valuable information might be obtained from members of the profession practising in those parts of the country where ordinary cowpox is known to prevail.

"The most interesting of these relics is a declaration of the Association of Free-men of Maryland, 26th of July, 1775, approving of union and armed opposition to the British authorities. This patriotic document (a species of declaration of independence) bears the signatures of nearly all the leading men of Maryland in the Revolutionary struggle, and among them may be found the names of those who, a year after, signed the Declaration at Philadelphia. The other two papers are, first—the authenticated copy of the petition of the Free-men of Maryland to Congress, and, attested by it—President, Mifflin; and second—the original Proclamation of Peace in Maryland by Governor Poca, as Executive of the State. It was long a matter of doubt among the representatives of Maryland present in Congress about the 1st of July, 1776, and who gave the vote of our State in favor of Independence, until a receipt under date of 4th of July, 1776, at Philadelphia, was discovered by our delegates, which was found among some apparently valueless papers, to which the signatures of J. Rogers, William Poca, and Thomas Stone were attached, which definitely settled the question as to their presence in Congress on that memorable day.—Baltimore Commercial.

"The work on the Albert Memorial at Hyde Park is again proceeding. A quantity of granite is now on the ground, and a steam-engine has been set up to work the machinery for polishing it. A number of columns of red granite, and a quantity of others, are being quarried from Scotland. The whole of the brick-work and masonry connected with the lower portion of the work have been completed.

THE EXODUS OF WOMEN.

The Enterprise a Failure—The Inducement to Emigrate, and the Disappointment of the Project—Disappointed New Englanders—Departure of the Continental.

The necessity for a larger proportion of women in the population of Washington Territory has been so severely felt by certain men who determined to make that portion of the West their future home, that one of them was impelled to make an effort to supply the demand, by importing all who were willing to accept homes on the Pacific slope from those Eastern States he deemed too greatly blessed with the presence of feminine graces and influences.

The experiment of a small scale, made in the spring of 1864, by Mr. A. S. Mercer, at that time a member of the Territorial Legislature, perhaps suggested the idea of another attempt upon a larger scale; and the gentleman who, eighteen months ago, gave the admission of thirty or forty females to the population of Washington Territory, was sent here with the authority, as alleged, of the Territorial Government, for the purpose of taking back with him a ship-load of emigrants, to be finally refused, and he was the town, cities, and homes of the East.

Delay, often unavoidable and always dangerous, in the present instance proved almost fatal to the enterprise. The difficulty of procuring transportation grew with the passage of time, and the Government ship, which the emigrant had expected to be finally refused, and he was compelled to purchase a vessel expressly for the purpose. The money was advanced by Mr. Benjamin Holliday, of California, and the steamer Continental secured.

The departure of the Enterprise recently appeared upon the flank of the agent, while he was manoeuvring with the Secretary of the Navy in front, in the person of Miss Anna E. Dickinson, who used the full force of her earnest invective down the bay, and she insisted, and she insisted, that the emigrant should be refused, and she insisted, that the emigrant should be refused, and she insisted, that the emigrant should be refused.

The inducements offered to female emigrants were principally based upon the fact, or rather the assertion, that the proportion of males to females in Washington Territory was ten to one. This suggested matrimony, always interesting to the feminine mind and heart; and visions of homes, happiness, and maternity floated bewilderingly before their mental eyes. Female labor, it is more especially an avocation, and naturally commands higher wages, and the cost of living being less there than here, made a pecuniary consideration of no little weight.

It is not expected that a vote will be got on the negro suffrage bill. To-night the previous question will be called, and the voting on the amendments will occur to-morrow. The enemies of the bill will very generally sustain the motion to postpone.

FOURTH EDITION.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

The New Loan Bill—Constitutional Amendment on Reconstruction—Negro Suffrage, Etc.

Our Special Despatches.

WASHINGTON, JANUARY 18.

The New Loan Bill—Conference with Mr. McCulloch.

The Ways and Means Committee are engaged again upon the new Loan Bill, and have not arrived at any conclusion. Two members of the committee had an interview with Secretary McCulloch at eleven o'clock. They stated that they would not object to the bill in its present shape if they could feel sure that as honest and prudent a man as Mr. McCulloch would always be Secretary of the Treasury.

Negro Suffrage Bill.

It is not expected that a vote will be got on the negro suffrage bill. To-night the previous question will be called, and the voting on the amendments will occur to-morrow. The enemies of the bill will very generally sustain the motion to postpone.
